SLATING!

Slate roofs will last from 40 to 100 years, and cost but little more than tin roofs that last but 10 years. Slate roofs are cheaper than tin roofs. Slate roofs are warranted not to leak for any number of years, and are so pronounced by those who have had them on their houses for 10 years. Slate roofs are fire-proof, while tin roofs are not. Slate roofs are cool in summer, while tin roofs are not. Slate roofs are not affected by the heat of the sun, while tin roofs are affected by it, and are ruined by it in a few years. Slate roofs require no painting, while tin roofs require painting every two or three years, and unless painted they will not last two years. Slate roofs require no repairs, while tin roofs are always needing repairs. Slate roofs are better than any other roofs for all buildings, and are the cheapest roofs when their cost is considered. Slate roofs are now being put on the best buildings in Bangor, and those who have had them put on their houses are the parties who are most ready to recommend them to others who may be in need of roofs. Slate roofs are now being put on houses in Bangor at a cost of from $3 to $4 per square, according to the quality of the slate used. Those who want a good roof should not fail to see the undersigned before they put on any other roof.

THE NATIONAL SHAME.

We believe that the patriotic, law-respecting people of this New England section would not forgive us, and we know that we could obtain no forgiveness from our own conscience, if we failed to utter one emphatic and solemn protest against the outrage upon Liberty and Law just consummated at Columbia, South Carolina. Without the essential facts before us, after studying the case in all its details for many weeks, and with every disposition to find excuse if a reasonable one could be found, we denounce the "policy" which has handed over a Republican State to the rule of illegal violence as absolutely infamous.

Time was when the surrendering of a single colored vote into the clutch of his oppressors, although under the sanction then of Constitutional interpretation, aroused manifestoes of indignation throughout the liberty-loving North; now was and not remote, when the hostility of a National Executive to the extension of political privilege to the colored freedman brought up in his behalf a host of demonstrations and memorials from home heart, and here we have a surrender of the political rights of a majority of the people of the State to the absolute subjugation of the will of that people to the will of a bloodthirsty and lawless minority, directly resulting from a refusal of the National Administration to enforce then the letter or the spirit of the Constitution of the United States which guarantees the protection and enjoyment of the rights of all citizens.

There is no pretense by the Administration (as Gen. Wade Hampton is legally entitled to do) that one of South Carolina and not a section that Governor Chamberlain is not actually the Chief Magistrate of that State. The whole question of right and has been avowedly ignored and the "new policy" plainly announces that it is that whatever faction can control outrage and organization violently upon the constituted authorities shall be recognized by the United States to overthrow the Republican form of government and to usurp the rights of the majority of the people. This is the "new policy" precisely as defined by its originators and expounders and we ask any candid reader will pronounce the doctrine anything less than infamous.

A revolution in society by which the constitutional and laws should be overthrown by lawless force and the rights of the vast array of the people usurped, is one of great moment when the National Government was unable or really to prevent, would be bad enough in a Republic of law, but that such an outrage should be permitted to stand as only the first certain, but in pursuance of an avowed purpose of a National Administration of the highest existence to the votes of the very people thus old beat by allegiance to the cause of order, loyal, enlightened, "Southern Section, every impartial man must be forced and world to express condolence at the wicked opening of the great third National Amendment, which have been regarded as the grandest legacy of our struggle over Slavery and Treason.

Such a year ago, on the 11th of April, the rebel General Beauregard demanded the unconditional surrender of Fort Sumter in the harbor of Charleston, South Carolina, and on the following day he opened fire and the National Flag with Lee Underhand at its support, Major Anderson to evacuate the fortress of the United States. That outrage upon Union authority kindled a blaze of indignation throughout the loyal States and within three days the patriotism of the country was rallying in solid columns to avenge the insult. Twelve years ago on the 9th of April, the rebel army surrendered at Appomattox and a day or two later, on the fourth anniversary of its capture by the rebels, the Old Flag was again raised over the battlements of Fort Sumter, and the 15th was the center of upon the use of loyalty in legal rights. There are grave lessons and our events of history. And it seems to us that the great heart of the people which bounded with indignation when Anderson retired from the crumbling ruins of Sumter in 1861 cannot fail to be strongly moved when it sees the Lawful State Government of South Carolina, on the 11th of April, 1877, marching out of the State House, to expatriate to the same Traitors and dangerous faction that trained the batteries against Sumter when the Palmetto flag over a rebellious sun first raised, and that has never ceased to menace the peace and order of the land.

The triumph of Wade Hampton over the defeated leaders of the Republican party and the sacrificed guardians of the Constitution of the United States is a humiliation to the country and a bold defiance of the principles on which our republican form of government is based. We denounce the "marriage of the new policy" as a National shame!

STAUNCH AND TRUE.

Our readers will welcome the terse and vigorous sentences of Senator Blaine's letter, which show that he has not stained a lot or title of his devotion to the cause of justice and equal rights. The false report which he contradicts is an example of the surmises and baseless conjecture constantly set afoot concerning prominent public men. Only a day or two since the Democratic organ in this city, whose editor has no conception of a newspaper with opinions of its own, flung out a vulgar sneer to the effect that Senator Blaine was constantly dictating the articles that have appeared in our columns. We did not deem the nonsense worth noticing, but Mr Blaine's contradiction of the Herald assertion recalls us of the other nonsense with reference to which we simply remark that we have had "no" communication whatever from or with Senator Blaine, directly or indirectly, for some three months, dating from a period long anterior to the inauguration of the President or the announcement of the new policy.

We have never doubted the staunchness of either of our honored Senators in upholding the fundamental doctrines of the Republican party and of the National Constitution; but we have not assumed to speak for them, but for ourselves. This letter of Senator Blaine will command the hearty approval of that "stalwart over England sentiment" which a doughface press is striving so hard to stifle.

The White League in New Orleans fired a hundred guns over the surrender of the South Carolina State House to Wade Hampton. They fired similar salutes over Bull Run and the earlier rebel successes, but their saluting guns were afterwards spiked by Farragut and Butler.

LETTER FROM SENATOR BLAINE.

CLEAR AS A BUGLE.

Senator Blaine sent the following letter to the Boston Herald, yesterday:

AUGUSTA, Me., April 10, 1877.

To the Editor of the Boston Herald.

Your Columbia correspondent is in error in his statement that I had a conference with Governor Chamberlain in New York. I have seen Governor Chamberlain but once for a year, and that was in the private Cabinet Room of President Hayes, on the 27th of March. Nor have I written or telegraphed him, or heard from him in any way. The same is true respecting Governor Packard, except in the matter of one telegram, received from him, which I read publicly in the United States Senate.

But I am sure that Governor Chamberlain knows that he has had my profound and sympathy in the heroic though unsuccessful struggle he has made in South Carolina for Civil Liberty and Constitutional Government. I am equally sure that Governor Packard feels that my heart and judgment are both with him in the contest he is still waging against great odds, for the Governorship that he holds by a title as valid at that which justly and lawfully seated Rutherford B. Hayes in the Presidential chair.

Perhaps so that both Governors know that the Boston Press no more represents the statesmanship New England feeling on the pending issues, than the same Press did when it demanded the enforcement of the Fugitive Slave Law in 1851.

Very respectfully yours,

(Signed) J. G. BLAINE.

THE HEART OF THE PEOPLE

We would like to share with our readers the gratifying assurances which we constantly receive that the "heart of the people" is sound and true on the great question of maintaining the supremacy of law and redeeming the National pledges for the protection of equal rights. The assurances come in various forms. In verbal conversation, by notes of approval appended to business communications, in letters and by special messengers, and personal interviews are not uncommon. Illustrating that sound heart of the people which so many newspapers neglect too grossly and persistently to represent, a prominent and esteemed citizen of an adjoining county writes in a postscript:

"We are very happy to be able to assure you that your course relating to the "new policy" was cited, and the hearty approval of very conservative Republicans. I hope it may be strong enough to rally the noble sand 12th Wise that taken."

Another gentleman of ability and equipment, who is not actively connected with politics, but who feels a citizen's deep interest in the affairs of our country, writes:

"I have been pleased with your course and would consider it an honor if political offers that I have will enable me to give congratulation to you for your firmness. Hoping that the time will soon come when I can do more than express my sympathy."

While many of our friends stand aside and wait to see what comes out of this miserable business, the Old Guard has been up to the glorious standard of every moment, for which I feel one is proud to take this opportunity to thank you."

The same mail brings us the following interesting communication from a intelligent Union soldier in another State:

"A QUESTION.

Dear Editor and Friend:

Perhaps some of your kind, intelligent readers will be so good as to furnish me with some information concerning the following subject. I'm only a woman, not in favor of suffrage conventions, either and of course I cannot understand the present state of political affairs very clearly, especially as some points (Nearly all the Republican papers are endorsing the new policy" of the Administration and perhaps they are quite in the right to do so, I do not know, but I wish some one to tell me how it comes to pass that in the last equally that "Might is Right?"

Once Bonesey, a correspondent writing from Washington to the Tribune says that it is plain that "whenever at the very, we must rest the place of government of law." Then he goes on to evolve from this that a "government of law" has given rise to the Ku-Klux, the White League, the Rifle Clubs and all sorts of conspiracy that of course the object of the "government of the strongest" will subjugate the colored people to their former masters, but will not the end justified better for them, that they by violence know to govern themselves well, and that the President hopes to see good result from the effort, that the whites when they are allowed to govern themselves will become friendly to the negroes good as a class of free citizens so educate the negro, that in time he can take his place where he is trying to stand now." There are not the exact words of "Bonesey" but they convey exactly his meaning and "contain the express sentiment of many of our Republican journals.

Now it is a well authenticated fact that the class of white Democrats in the South are Roman Catholics; it is also well known that the class of Catholics in the North are Democrats; every one knows how they (the Catholics) feel and act in regard to free schools.

They have already educated in their Convents quite a number of colored youths and sent them South to preach to and instruct their brethren, and convert them to the Catholic faith.

Will some one please tell me how, with a Democratic Catholic government in the South, this new colored proposed of Free Schools is likely to be fulfilled? A.

"Your telegram just received. The friends of peace, justice and constitutional government rejoice with you.

(Signed) J. B. GORDON."

[Formerly a General in the Confederate Army, later the chief of the Ku-Klux Klan in Georgia, the organizer of Hampton's attempted coup d'etat last December and one of the high contracting parties in the Foster-Matthews bargain.]

The little organ over the way has the impudence to ask us if we do not now think Tilden was fairly elected. We not only think but know that he was fairly elected. The Democratic party rule in the South, and Democratic majorities, instead of by a single vote. New York, North Carolina and Indiana were notoriously carried for Tilden by fraud, while in Alabama, Georgia and Mississippi, the election was a mockery. In Louisiana and South Carolina the terrorism and fraud were successfully combated and those States were saved to the National and State Republican tickets. They who would surrender the hard-earned victory in those States are the ones who discredit the Presidential title, and not this paper, which asserts that Hayes and Wheeler, Packard and Chamberlain were rightfully chosen by the people of Louisiana and South Carolina.

The Murder Trial.

BATH, April 11. In the case of Isaac N. Parker, the boy murdered by witnesses testified that the father reprimanded the boy in the barn and the boy left the house and shortly after the father followed. Maxwell testified to hearing the report of a gun and that the boy came to him saying his father was shot. He found the body of the father supported by an axe and daughter Sarah, who died soon after being found, revived. Several witnesses saw two gunshot holes on the body, principal one over the breast. In one shot hole was a piece of paper or cloth. Witnesses testified to statements of the boy that he fired gun according to direction of his father, so he would not punish him, that he was frightened when he fired about the noise made by his father. Small, Jones and Higgins testified that the boy said why he did it and he answered that he was afraid. The trial: Closes tomorrow.

Defendant's Testimony

Gen. W. Spaulding opened for the defense. Mr. Adams testified that he formerly owned the gun, that it was of long range and I not scatter much. Witnesses were put on the stand to testify to the character of the boy, but the Attorney General admitted that he was of good character and the witnesses were excused. Mr. Cox, defendant, testified that his father told him to come to his pen in the night. He refused and went out doors, his father followed and cuffed his ears two or three times, took hold by the collar to take him into the house; he slipped out of his shirt and went home in his shirt sleeves. Heard pan slamming by his father and supposed he was indulgent, did not think he would kill his son. Then thought he would scare father with it; went into shed, took gun and went out round the house; saw his father coming, raised gun to his hip and fired, saw his father fall, ran forward to help him, called others to help; did not mean to kill father, but only to frighten him; did not mean to frighten him so as to avoid punishment. Boy's mother and sister were on the stand and told no new facts.

The Nicholls Explers.

The Legislature passed resolutions setting forth that the present disturbed condition of affairs is due to private parties, and Governor Nicholls and Legislature Wednesday, that the Legislature will at once adjourn sine die.

Trying to Form a Democratic Legislature.

Commission Tuesday made a proposition to be more to-day, which, the original plan, will the extent of fusing the heads of Supervisors of the Returning Board, give a Democratic majority of four.

Pinchback's Story.

At 10 o'clock last night 100 guns were fired in honor of the news that Hampton was in possession of the State House at Columbia. Pinchback states that seven of Packard's House will go over to the Nicholls side to-day or Thursday.

Governor Packard will Accept Terms Dictated by the President.

A New Orleans special to the Tribune says Packard will accept any compromise drawn up by Hayes, but if Hayes proposes no compromise, then he should recognize the claims of Nicholls immediately.

The President's Commission.

NEW ORLEANS, April 11. The Commission is as busy as usual to-day, though they have not heard so many delegations. W. A. Brown, State Superintendent of education with five or six division Superintendents and the Secretary forming the State board of education, explained the affairs of their department.

After this interview with the State Board of Education, the Commission divided and had an interview with Governor Nicholls and Governor Packard, spending considerable time with each.

In the afternoon a delegation of thirteen colored men appeared with Pinchback at their head. Among them were three colored members of the Nicholls Legislature. They were all opposed to the Packard government and in favor of the recognition of Nicholls, and presented their view of the case at some length.

Besides this the Commission have been busy as individuals, but they do not make known the progress they have made. J. R. Lewis, Pinsner and ex-Justice Wylie will testimate to the Commission a brief sustaining the legality of the Nicholls Supreme Court.

The Nicholls Legislature have passed an act abolishing the old State Board of Education and establishing a new one, composed of State officers and citizens, of whom Mr. Pinchback is one.

The Commission Trying to Form a Democratic Legislature.

It is stated that Commission Tuesday agreed to propose to both Nicholls adherents and Packard supporters a proposition to form a Democratic Legislature, which returns, if carried, would give a Democratic majority of four.

ABRUTAL MURDER.

Two Maine Men Arrested.

Terrible Murder at Rockport, Mass. Parties Arrested on Suspicion.

GLOUCESTER, Mass., April 11. Rockport, Mass., was the scene of a horrible murder this noon. Charles H. Gilman of Lowell, a repairer of sewing machines, who has been canvassing Gloucester the past week was found in the reservoir, near the Rockport depot having been terribly beaten about the head and thrown in to cover up the horrible deed.

The Body was Discovered by Edwin Doyle, a young lad, who was out gunning, shortly after 12 o'clock. He immediately notified the authorities. When taken from the water the body had the appearance of not being there but a short time.

Parties Arrested on Suspicion

William Williams, an employe of the deceased and who was last seen with him, was immediately arrested on suspicion. William A. and Alphonzo Knight, of Belmont, Me., who were at the depot about the time of the murder, left at 2 o'clock for Salem, where telegrams were sent for their arrest and they were brought here and locked up to await further development.

Williams' Story.

Williams is locked up at Lockport. He says he left Gilman at the depot at a quarter of 12, to procure something to eat, that Gilman went up the hill above the depot and he, Williams, returning, met the two men alluded to above. One of them said he wife and son better thought you was killed. It must be your chum. Williams hurried to make even. Where he was arrested.

An Inquest

The body of the murdered man presents a horrible appearance. An inquest will be held to-morrow at 9 o'clock when the terrible affair will be investigated. He was known to have a small amount of money thus is supposed to have been the object for committing the deed.

SOUTH CAROLINA

Consummation of the Usurpation.

COLUMBIA, April 11. Governor Hampton is now in possession of the State House. The transfer of papers and other property was made at 1:25 to-day, by the respective secretaries, Wade H. Mauning representing Hampton, and C. J. Babbitt representing Chamberlain. There was no excitement whatever.

LOCAL MATTERS.

There was a light snow last night.

The streets are getting to be quite dry.

The grass on many of the lawns is beginning to look green.

Messrs. J. E. Chapman & Co., advertise spring overcoats for sale.

Yesterday afternoon the clouds broke away and the sun made the weather feel quite spring like.

The ladies of the First Parish Society propose to give a May-day breakfast and Floral exhibition.

On the first page this morning will be found the report of the Board of Managers, of the Home for aged Women.

We would extend our thanks to Mr. R. R. Clark for a very handsome bouquet of Crocuses and Snowdrops, left at our office yesterday.

This, Thursday, evening there will be a meeting at the chapel of the First Baptist church at 7.30 o'clock, designed especially for young converts and inquirers.

The Diocesan Episcopal Board of Missions of this State will hold meetings at the Trinity church, Lewiston, Tuesday and Wednesday of next week.

An old shed in the vicinity of the E. & N. A. depot was being moved yesterday around to the rear of the depot, where it will be repaired and used for a freight house.

HAMPDEN. Monday evening a serenade by some of the finest musical talent in Hampden was tendered to Mr. Lorenzo Knowles, a much respected citizen and a staunch Republican, who has recently taken to himself a young and beautiful wife.

To-day will be observed by the churches throughout New England as a day of Fast and Prayer. Union service meetings in this city in the morning at Columbia street church at 9 o'clock, and in the afternoon in the chapel of the First Baptist at 2:30.

THE STEAMER MAY FIELD was very successfully launched yesterday morning and immediately towed to the wharf where her new boiler will be put in the last of the week, after which she will be ready to resume her regular trips on her old route.—The fifteen feet which has been added to her length has increased her tonnage 15 41-100 tons, making her total tonnage 48 62-100 tons.

THE HANDEL ASSOCIATION held a business meeting at the close of the concert Monday evening, for the purpose of electing a committee to arrange for an excursion to the White Mountains the coming summer. By a unanimous choice Messrs. H. N. Fairbanks, W. E. Brown and W. N. Lombard, who so ably conducted the Centennial Excursion to Philadelphia last year, were re-elected.

CONTRADICTION. In contradiction of a report printed in the Boston Herald, D. D. Warren, Esq., of this city has shown us a letter received by him from A. D. Goodwin, Esq., U. S. Vice-Consul at St John, stating that he is in Boston at the Revere House awaiting sufficient recovery of health to enable him to proceed to St. John. Mr. Goodwin is not aware of having done anything to induce him to abscond, but has been suffering from a severe fit of sickness from which he is now recovering and hopes soon to be at home with his family.

DEATH OF AN OLD RESIDENT OF ETNA. Mrs. Sarah Sylvester, widow of the late Bela Sylvester, died in Etna the 8th inst., aged 91 years and 3 months. She moved into Etna in the year 1807, when that town was an entire wilderness, cleared and made the farm where she lived up to the time of her death. She was the mother of ten children, seven of whom are now living, and has left thirty-nine grandchildren and forty-seven great-grandchildren. She was a good neighbor and her death will be sincerely mourned by her many friends and relatives in Etna.

"CAIRO, THE MAGNIFICENT." None of our readers should forget the opportunity presented to them this evening of visiting with the eloquent lecturer, Mr. Stoddard, the capital of Egypt and those wonderful relics of antiquity, the Pyramids and the Sphinx. This lecture is reported to be one of the best of that large number of discourses which have been so patronizingly received during this winter. Mr. Stoddard spent a large part of the winter of 1873 in Cairo and on the old Nile, and his much admired powers of description, so well attested here in his recent lecture upon Athens, will doubtless render the entertainment at City Hall this evening most enjoyable and instructive. During Mr. Stoddard's stay in Cairo he attended a grand ball in the Khedive's superb palace at Gizerah, and he will give by request in his lecture to-night a description of its splendors.

BANGOR AUXILIARY OF THE WOMAN'S BOARD OF MISSIONS held their annual meeting yesterday afternoon in the vestry of the First Congregational church. The Officers, Mrs. J. Crosby, read the Scripture, and Miss Stackpole led in Prayer. After singing, the reports of the Mrs. W. G. Duren, and of the Mrs. E. G. Thurston, were read, and accepted. The sum of $381 was reported, as the receipts for the year, which has been forwarded to its destination. A portion of it goes to the erection of a chapel among the Dakotas, and the remainder to the general mission fund. The following officers were then elected for the ensuing year: Directors, Mrs. James Crosby, Miss Sophia Stackpole, Mrs. John S. Small, Mrs. G. W. Pickering, Mrs. E. M. Pond, Mrs. A. Dole, Mrs. H. S. Brown, Mrs. E. Kent, Mrs. T. G. Stickney; Secretary, Mrs. W. G. Duren; Treasurer, Mrs. E. G. Thurston. Items of Missionary intelligence were communicated, and the meeting closed with prayer by Mrs. Brown.

HAPPY HOUR ASSOCIATION. The last meeting of the Happy Hour Association took place at the vestry of the Universalist church last evening, and was one of the pleasantest of the series. The evening, the different parts of which were all very finely rendered by: Violin Solo, "Home, Sweet Home," by Mr. McQuoon, and in response to the hearty encores he played "The Last Rose of Summer." Reading, "The Child's Prayer," by Miss Sellers. Song, "Tender and True," by Miss Dakin. Reading, "Kingsley's Last Poem," by Rev. M. Preble; Song, "When the Thorn is White with Blossom," by Miss Nellie Chapman; Reading, "A Surprise," by Mr. Collamore; Cornet Solo, "Non E Ver," by Mr. Barlow. This piece was loudly encored and Mr. Barlow responded by playing "Annie Laurie." Reading, "He Didn't Want a Coffin," by Capt. E. E. Small. An elegant supper was then served by the ladies, and after all had partaken bountifully, Capt. E. E. Small announced that through the kind invitation of Mr. Cooper they would adjourn to Mystic Hall and spend an hour or more in dancing.

A REPUTATION. We have received a note from a gentleman in Boston calling our attention to the part taken in the General Temperance meeting at Portland last Friday, by a young man named Stanley from this city. The writer says the young man spoke with Mr. Moody at East Boston on Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday, at South Boston two evenings in the same week and also at the Tabernacle on Friday, and that he has greatly interested Rev. Mr. Bates, Rev. Geo. Pentecost and others. We slip the following mention from one of the Boston papers:

Mr. Stanley—A young man, said that for twelve years he had been a drinking man, the last three years a common drunkard. He came from a pleasant, happy home, and 12 years ago his father accepted him a lucrative place. He remained in it but a few months, and then he became confirmed in habits of intoxication. He lost place after place until at last no one would take him. He was so much under the influence of liquor. Six weeks ago he came to the Tabernacle, talked with one who had been saved, and was saved himself. From that time he had no desire for liquor or tobacco, and he felt confident that God would enable him to lead a sober, honest life.

LET THE YOUNG SALMON GO. It having been currently reported about town that boys have been catching trout for some days past at Godfrey's wharf, two gentlemen went there to try their fortunes, and after exercising much patience they succeeded in capturing three fish and brought them down town in water alive. Mr. Stillwell examined the specimens and pronounced them young salmon. The stocking of rivers and streams with this fine fish is too expensive to have them destroyed now, and the business of catching them will be stopped. The law on the subject is as follows:

Sec. 30. No salmon, shad, alewives or other migratory fish shall be taken within five yards of any dam or mill-way, or within five yards of any dam or mill-race, nor shall any structure of any element except single hook and line be used for taking any fish within the above limits, between the first day of April and the first day of November, without the written permission of the wardens of the district in which it is situated, and approved by the commissioner of fisheries, nor shall hook and line be used within fifty yards of any fishway. The penalty for the violation of this section shall be a fine of not more than fifty nor less than ten dollars for each offence, and a further fine of ten dollars for each salmon, one dollar for each shad and twenty cents for each alewife so taken.

The above act was approved and became a law February 22, 1872, and an additional chapter, "to prevent the destruction of certain fish in the upper waters of the Penobscot river," was approved February 7, 1876, and reads as follows:

CHAP. 57. There shall be between the first day of April and the fifteenth day of July each year, a weekly close time of four days, from sunrise on Sunday to sunrise of Thursday of each week during which the salmon, shad, alewives or bass shall be taken or destroyed from or in the waters of the Penobscot river or its branches above the railroad bridge between Bangor and Brewer, but between said Thursday and Sunday at sunrise, as aforesaid, it shall be lawful to take any of said fish in said waters above said bridge, any law to the contrary notwithstanding. Any person violating the provisions of this act shall be liable to a penalty of fifteen dollars for each salmon, and five dollars for each other fish aforesaid, taken or destroyed from or in said waters during the period above mentioned.

This law will be enforced and fishing for these young salmon will be found to be very expensive. Everyone should take a personal interest in preventing the capture of young salmon now and in a few years the Penobscot and its tributaries will abound with them.

Police Court

John Lucy came before His Honor Judge Goodenow yesterday for drunkenness, and was fined $5 and costs and in default of payment was committed to jail.

Dennis Crowley for a similar offence was fined $5 and costs, from which he appealed.

Eugene M. Blackwell vs. Walter B. Gould. An action of trover. Plaintiff claims damage for conversion by defendant of an iron door, a saloon sign bearing plaintiff's name, and a soda-fountain. The contest is mainly upon the soda-fountain. It appears that on the 9th of March, 1876, the defendant purchased from the plaintiff the stock, fixtures and good-will of the saloon business, which plaintiff at that time was carrying on at 140 Exchange street, Bangor. The fountain in dispute was there in the saloon and was when plaintiff purchased this saloon from a former proprietor. This sale was reduced to writing in a bill of sale. About the time of this sale an inventory was made of the stock and fixtures, including the soda-fountain, but the plaintiff says that being uncertain as to whether he owned the fountain or not, it was expressly understood that title to it was not to pass to defendant unless he did own it. Subsequently J. A. Wallis claimed the fountain and brought an action against the plaintiff for the same. Plaintiff settled the action at law by paying for the fountain and brought this action against defendant upon defendant's refusal to give up the fountain to plaintiff. Verdict to-day for plaintiff for $13 50.

TRUE ECONOMY is not in buying the lowest price articles. The best is cheapest. So with the fine cultivated and plantation grown spices imported by Messrs. Pinckney, Jackson & Co., of London and New York. I have just received a shipment of these goods and would specially invite the attention of all consumers to them. These spices are not only absolutely pure, but are without a doubt the finest ever imported into this country. I confidently recommend them as being really of unusual merit.

DR. SCHENCK'S STANDARD REMEDIES. The standard remedies for all diseases of the lungs are SCHENCK'S PULMONIC SYRUP, DR. SCHENCK'S SEA WEED TONIC, and SCHENCK'S MANDRAKE PILLS, and, if taken before the lungs are destroyed, a speedy cure is effected.

To those three medicines Dr. J. H. Schenck, of Philadelphia, owes his unrivalled success in the treatment of pulmonary diseases.

The Pulmonic Syrup ripens the morbid matter in the lungs, matures it so it can easily be thrown off by expectoration, for when the phlegm or matter is ripe a slight cough will throw it off, the patient has rest and the lungs begin to heal.

To enable the Pulmonic Syrup to do this, Schenck's Mandrake Pills and Schenck's Sea Weed Tonic must be freely used to cleanse the stomach and liver. Schenck's Mandrake Pills act on the liver, removing all obstructions, relax the gall bladder, the bile starts freely, and the liver is soon relieved.

Schenck's Sea Weed Tonic is a gentle stimulant and alterative; the salt of which it is composed, mixes with the food and prevents souring. It assists the digestion by toning up the stomach to a healthy condition, so that the food and the Pulmonic Syrup will make good blood, then the lungs heal, and the patient will surely get well if care is taken to prevent fresh cold.

All who wish to consult Dr. Schenck, either personally or by letter, can do so at his principal office, corner of SIXTH and ARCH STS., Philadelphia, every Monday.

Schenck's Medicines are sold by all druggists throughout the country.
